A guide to the Scandinavian collections

Scope of the Collection

It should be noted that although the term Nordic more accurately describes the collection of the topography, history and literature etc. of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Iceland, Finland, Greenland and the Faroe Islands, the term Scandinavian is used here as it reflects the majority of our holdings in this field.

The Library has built up a notably strong collection of books in subjects of Scandinavian interest (in the original languages and in English), with a particular emphasis on Swedish material. A large part of the collection will be found under the relevant shelfmarks in the main Literature, History and Topography sections of the Library, which are detailed below, with further representation in the Bibliography, Philology and Religion sections.

Dictionaries and grammars in all major Scandinavian languages are included in the collection, together with some historic guide books to the region.

With the exception of the Literature section, relevant material in English and in Scandinavian languages is shelved together in each of the subject areas. Suggestions for specific additions to the collection may be directed to the Acquisitions Department.

Understanding shelfmarks

The collection is divided into broad subject areas (History, Literature, Topography, for example) and then into smaller areas, arranged alphabetically. Within each section, books are generally arranged by author name but edited titles are filed under the book title instead. Check the Catalyst record for the 'shelved under' information.

In order to make the most effective use of space, the collection is also shelved by size. Check the end of shelf marks for the notations 4to (quarto), Folio and Folio Extra Large that may indicate a different place to look for the books.

Above is an example of a book record from the catalogue. Here you can see that the book is shelved under the author's name and that it is available (i.e. on the shelf) in the Literature section (L), in the sub-section for Scandinavia and then shelved under Forshaw.

Books may be requested and put aside for ready for collection, but we would always encourage members to browse the shelves for themselves and discover the books they did not know they needed. Items from the Library's Special Collections that cannot be borrowed, can be consulted in the Library under supervised conditions with 72 hours' notice.

Swedish Lit., 4to.); it is always advisable to consult the Library's catalogues as well as browsing the shelves, and to note down shelfmarks in full.

Translations into English of works of fiction (novels and short-stories) by Danish, Norwegian, Finnish, Icelandic, Faroese, and Swedish authors are shelved in the Library's main Fiction collection, on the 2nd floor and Mezzanine.

History

Within the Library's History section works are not subdivided by language, so relevant books in all languages will be found in the main sequence under the appropriate subject shelfmark. General works on the history of the whole region or of more than one Scandinavian country will be found at H. Scandinavia, with books on the histories of the individual countries at, respectively: H. Denmark, H. Finland, H. Greenland, H. Iceland, H. Norway and H. Sweden (in which the Library's collection is notably rich).

Finnish and Swedish military histories are shelved separately at H. Army, Finnish, and H. Army, Swedish. Books on individual Scandinavian monarchs and their reigns will also be found under individual shelfmarks, e.g. H. Caroline Matilda, Queen of Denmark ; H. Charles X, King of Sweden.

All of these shelfmarks are arranged in alphabetical order, across the History section on Levels 2, 3 and 4. Please note that there are separate sequences for larger-format books (i.e. 4to and folio); the stack-boards at the end of each row will help you navigate these sections.

Topography

Books on the topography and geography of the region in all languages are shelved in the Library's Topography section (on Level 1) at the following shelfmarks: T. Denmark; T. Faroe Islands; T. Finland; T. Greenland; T. Iceland; T. Lapland; T. Norway; T. Scandinavia; T. Spitsbergen; and T. Sweden. Again these are arranged in alphabetical order. There are also separate sequences for larger-format books (4to. and folio); please note down carefully shelfmarks from the Library's catalogues and consult the stack-boards at the end of each row.

Reference and other works

Dictionaries in the following Scandinavian languages can be found in the main Reading Room (1st Floor): Danish, Finnish, Icelandic, Norwegian, Sami, Swedish, and 1 Faroese volume. The section R.R. Many of these titles are either no longer subscribed or are defunct but the Library retains back issues in its collection. Some titles may be online only or kept off-site. Please check the Library Catalogue for details of holdings. Titles include:- Scandinavica, Edda.

The latest issues of periodicals are available for consultation in the Reading Room, with earlier issues bound as volumes and shelved in the Basement or off-site, available for loan.
